

Drippy Dropperson Coloring Book Contest

What would you draw to show other kids how to protect water?

CONTEST:

The City of Roswell is challenging Roswell's 3rd, 4th, and 5th graders to draw pictures of Drippy Dropperson protecting water. Show other kids how to save water, stop pollution, clean up our rivers, or manage stormwater. The top 12 drawings will be featured in the 2012 Drippy Dropperson Coloring Book that will be distributed to the community through schools, doctor's offices, restaurants, and retailers in Roswell.

Each winning artist will be invited to the coloring book unveiling during a Mayor and Council meeting! The best drawing will appear on the cover of the coloring book!

RULES:

1. All entries must be done by a 3rd, 4th, or 5th grader.
2. All drawings must depict water protection.

TO ENTER:

1. On the attached entry form, using black ink, draw a creative picture of Drippy Dropperson protecting water. Do NOT color your drawing!
2. Mail the completed entry form and drawing to:

Vicki Culbreth
38 Hill Street, Suite 235
